

STEPPED OFF CAR IN FRONT OF AUTO

Mrs. Pauline Olsen Hansen Instantly Killed by Machine Carrying Joy Riders.

HURLED TWENTY FEET IN AIR

Fatality Occurs at Fifth East and Seventh South Street Shortly Before Midnight Tuesday.

Within a few seconds after stepping from a Liberty park street car with her daughter, Mrs. Pauline Olsen Hansen, aged 45 years, wife of Fred Hansen, a quarryman, was struck by an automobile driven by Ernest Johnson, and was instantly killed. The fatality occurred at Fifth East and Seventh South street at 11:30 Tuesday night. Johnson is under arrest and is being held in the city jail.

The automobile contained a "joy riding" party and after Mrs. Hansen had been crushed four members of the party disappeared. The impact was terrific and the unfortunate woman was hurled a distance of 20 feet. Johnson stopped the machine and returned to the scene. Several other persons arrived and the mangled body was carried to the home at the rear of 515 east Seventh South street. The police were notified and Motorcycle Patrolman W. W. Griffin and Frank Navin of Studebaker's automobile garage, responded. Griffin at once placed Johnson under arrest and took him to police headquarters. He will probably be charged with manslaughter.

At police headquarters Johnson said he was employed as chauffeur by Burt Carlist, a real estate firm, and that he had taken Mr. Carlist home earlier in the evening. Mrs. Hansen was stopped at the intersection of Fifth East and Ninth East street and took Ralph Armstrong, a druggist, and a party of the latter's friends for a "joy ride." Johnson told Lieutenant Griffin that he was not going at a speed of more than 20 miles an hour, but it is claimed by witnesses that he was driving the machine at the rate of more than 30 miles an hour.

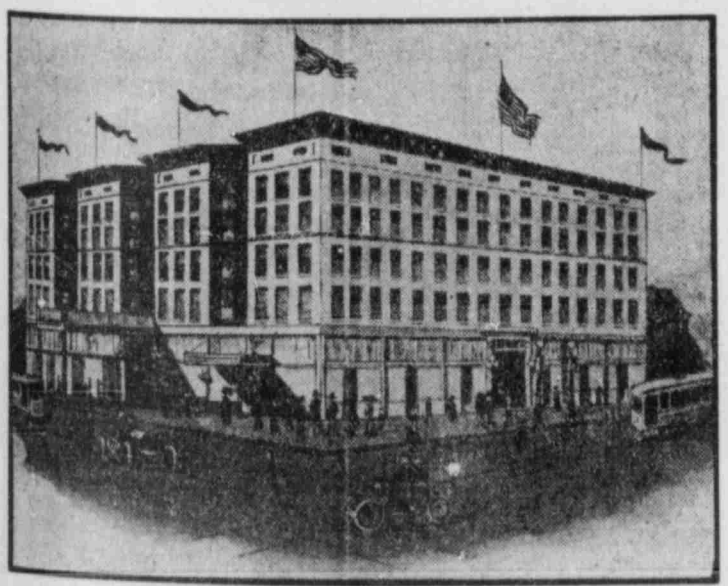

According to the daughter of the dead woman, she noticed the automobile speeding along the street with the evident intention of beating the car in which she was riding. She saw the car first and stopped. She saw the crash and was hurled about 20 feet.

A. M. Rice, 547 east Seventh South, and A. E. Shovel, 626 Sixth East street, carried Mrs. Hansen to the street car. The physician declared that Mrs. Hansen had been instantly killed. The husband and daughter of the unfortunate woman are almost prostrated with grief over the deplorable affair.

JOHNSON'S STORY.
Ernest Johnson, aged 18 years, the chauffeur for the firm of Burt & Carlist, is occupying a cell in the boys' ward in the city prison. The young man appeared dejected and nervous and undoubtedly feels keen remorse over the accident. He was asked to tell his story and said:

"I had taken the Burt and Carlist families out to Garfield and took them back to their homes, arriving about 10 minutes of 11 o'clock. I then drove to the drug store on Ninth East and Tenth South and got Mr. Armstrong and two friends, named Bowditch and Walt Campbell. They wanted to go down town. Near Liberty Park the car became flat on one of the wheels and I stopped to pump it up. I didn't have time to put in a new tube and was anxious to get to town as quickly as possible.

"When the accident happened I was going at about 22 miles an hour. The car stopped and several ladies got out. They were laughing and chatting and I turned the machine to one side. I didn't use the horn but made all the noise I could with the cut-off. I think the lady became frightened for she ran and tried to cross the street ahead of me when she was hit. The fellows in the machine jumped out as soon as I stopped and I don't know what became of them. I ran back to where the lady was and wanted to take her to the hospital, but a man said she had been taken into a residence. After that I got into the machine and went for Dr. Ridgely. I returned to where the lady was and that's all I know about it. I know I was not going more than 25 miles an hour and I am pretty sure I was going at the rate of 22 miles an hour."

Crippled by Rheumatism

Arms and Legs Out of Shape Helpless, Suffering Intensely

The Treatment that Cured—Now Healthy and Healthy—Gained Fifty Pounds.

"There is no medicine made on this earth that stands higher in my opinion than Hood's Sarsaparilla, or Sarsatals, which are Hood's Sarsaparilla in tablet form. It has raised me from a crippled and helpless condition to perfect health. I had suffered for a long time from rheumatism and in August, 1908, was suffering intensely. Both arms and legs were drawn out of shape and I was an absolute cripple for five months. I received Hood's Sarsaparilla for 1909 from our druggist, W. H. Cramm, and with the calendar 1908, I found a post card offering me a trial of Sarsatals on the 'No cure no pay' plan. I sent for a box and at the end of thirty days the pains of rheumatism had entirely ceased, although my body and limbs were still drawn out of shape. I continued using the medicine, took three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla with Pepticon Pills and also Hood's Vegetable Pills. I am now strong, hearty and healthy with no trace of rheumatism, and I have gained fifty pounds in weight in the last year. I cannot tell my store in as glowing language as I would like, but I have stated the simple facts, which I hope may be the means of inducing others who have rheumatism to follow the same course of treatment that I have followed. I am now so successful with me, I am willing to answer all inquiries if accompanied by stamps for return of postage." Robert Wilcox, West Scarborough, Maine, Jan. 21, 1910.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than twenty different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. There is no real substitute for it. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

In the usual liquid form, or in tablets called Sarsatals.

THE MEAKINS HONORED.

Daughters of Pioneers Give Pleasant Function at Mrs. Dougall's.

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers met pleasantly at Mrs. Dougall's residence, 49 State street, May 24, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Meakin being guests of honor, and a large number being present. Letters were read from Senator Reed Smoot and from Atty. Daniel Harrington, both highly appreciative of the society's efforts in the proposed celebration of Pioneer day, July 24.

Mrs. Lydia D. Alder rendered the first part of the program, relating some experiences while in England and Germany. May 24 being Queen Victoria's birthday, the sketch of her life in this address seemed appropriate. The late queen's personality and prepossessing manner were shown, also her fidelity and beautiful maternal nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Meakin, who leave soon to make their home in New York, were called upon for addresses. Mrs. Meakin is a Utah girl, descendant of the pioneers. She expressed in a feeling manner her affection for the members of the society whom she never would forget, but would keep in touch with no matter where she lived. She was almost overcome with emotion during her remarks, but was rescued by her husband, who, going to her side, recited, "The Test of Affection Is a Tear," after which they both sang a duet entitled "Birds, Flowers and Love."

Mr. Meakin himself proved a real compendium of poem, song and happy thoughts. He gave a number of appropriate recitations, and eloquently offered cheerful and helpful thoughts. His message to the world on leaving Utah, he declared, would be Utah's good people, her beauty and her success.

Alma Clayton and Luna Y. Moore rendered excellent solos and refreshments and a social time followed the program. Mrs. Meakin was presented with a badge of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers by the society, with an expression of good wishes for the guests of honor throughout all their future.

AMUSEMENTS

Theater—The advance sale is now going on for the engagement of May Robinson in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," which opens at the theater tomorrow night. Performances will also be given Friday night and Saturday afternoon and evening.

Orpheum—The Orpheum's closing bill for the season is proving as pleasing and as generally excellent as was promised by the management. Big audiences are attending, and they are showing keen enjoyment of the program. "The Leading Lady," the operetta that headlines the bill, is believed to be by far the best tabloid musical comedy presented in Salt Lake this season.

Colonial—The presentation of "St. Elmo" by Mr. Belasco's capable company drew a larger turnout last evening than had been expected. A division of the receipts was made with the Free Kindergarten. The same bill will run throughout the week.

Daniels—Mr. Mack and Miss Leone and their company in "Prettie Foggie" that lively and stirring comedy of dramatic life, will run through the week. The usual matinee was given this afternoon.

Mission—The popular bill of the week winds up tonight, to be followed by a new change of acts tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Grand—Mr. Congrave and his company will continue the presentation of "The Power of Love" all the week, with regular matinees today and Saturday.

Shubert—Big business was in attendance at Mr. Florence's popular Shubert house last evening, the moving pictures and vaudeville proving strong magnets. The same bill continues at the Luna, Isis, and the Elite.

"The Westerner"—This is the title of a new three-act musical comedy rendered by the senior company of the L. D. S. U. in Whitney hall last evening. The place was packed with students, their parents and friends, and the audience enjoyed an unmistakable fashion its appreciation of the new work. The story and libretto come from Mr. Victor Thurman, the orchestrations by Prof. Ed P. Kimball, who led the orchestra, and the cast was as follows:

Bob Browning, "the westerner".... Jack Summerhays
Percy Astorhill, his cousin..... Victor Thurman
Israel Isenbaum..... Howard T. Anderson
Diana Sherman..... Frank Bowers
"Paddy" Nelson..... Joel Richards
Judge Belnap..... Lawrence Nelson
Joseph Codwallader Archibald,
Ph.D..... Roscoe Hammond
Victor O'Shannon..... Esther Davis
Anta Spagetti..... Lucinda Browning
Lucinda Browning, Bob's sister..... Vera Weller
There was in addition a lively chorus of girls, cadets, police, etc., and the hit made by every one was unmistakable, especially by Mr. Summerhays, Mr. Thurman, the author, and Miss Davis, the soprano. The occasion was one of the events designed for commencement of the L. D. S. U. and the youthful performers acquitting themselves with credit. The special feature of the evening was the fine rendering by Mr. Brines of three songs written by Mr. Cannon. These were well received. Mr. Cannon composes in a graceful, flowing style, and his melodic evolution suggests the naturally gifted song writer, while the harmonic accompaniment rounds out the whole into a pleasing musical structure. Mr. Brines is always an able interpreter and his renditions last night were enthusiastically received.

Mr. Cannon's Recital—The first of the "Cannon" series was given Tuesday evening on the occasion of the piano recital given by pupils of Tracy Y. Cannon, ably assisted by Mr. Brines. The program was well and enjoyably carried out, the youthful performers acquitting themselves with credit. What the Salt Lake Schools Are Doing to Study Music

The weary business man, the jaded professional, or the man in any other walk of life who wants real recreation, and who sighs to experience a new sensation, ought to pull down the lid of his desk, put on his hat and walk to the nearest district school building at about the hour of recess. The sights he will witness and the sounds he will hear there, the closing days, will send him on a mental excursion backward to his youthful days, and cannot fail to prove exhilarating.

The visit should be specially timed to strike the 20 minutes devoted to music just before recess. By invitation yesterday, Prof. Evan Stephens, leader of the Tabernacle choir, Prof. McClellan, the organist, and Mr. Whitney, music editor of The News, stepped into the Lafayette school where Principal Combs escorted them through the various rooms where the study of the divine art was going on. The 40 minutes' experience to the visitors was a revelation, and the principal one said that it was like visiting a regular conservatory of music rather than a grade school. There is an enrollment of 900 pupils, and it is not too much to say that 90 per cent of the young people sing, and sing as though they enjoyed it.

The teachers paying special attention to the music, are Miss Probes and Miss Lisle Bradford, the latter having the smaller pupils. The ability of each room to find the correct key of any selection placed in the middle C is sounded, was astonishing. Not less so was the singing in three parts and even down to the fourth grade the singing in two parts was equally delightful. Neither is there any singing of trashy music, all the selections are of a certain standard, and the way the hands shot up in response to inquiries regarding the key, tempo, signatures, parts, etc., was another surprise.

A beautiful feature, too, was the marching in and out, by the great body of pupils keeping time to the strains of the school orchestra of 12 pieces led by Miss Bradford. The youngsters marched in twos and fours with strict military precision and the music furnished was inspiring, tuneful and correct to a degree. Prof. Combs and the teachers under him were warmly complimented by the visitors at the conclusion of the exercises, and all three agreed that the experience was one that could not have been duplicated anywhere.

Communications From Correspondents

The all-Utah boosters' excursion planned by the publicity bureau of the Commercial club conceived in the interests of the entire state and consummated in a blaze of glory, leaving a trail of good fellowship and a better feeling among the business men of the commonwealth, had but one discordant note to mar what has been aptly termed, since the excursion ended, the "business opportunity awakening of Utah"; and that was the spirit manifested by the citizens of Ogden towards the movement. The attitude maintained by the so-called business men of that town was fully in keeping with its former record and while the visitors there from this and other towns during the time allotted in the itinerary of the all-Utah excursion were familiar with the fact that Ogden was headquarters for the biggest ice factory in the country, it was believed that the objects of the excursion would be the general welfare to melt away the barriers that have been set up against anything originating in Salt Lake.

which they visited; these men, I say, came to your fair city, than which none is more proudly placed and with their hearts bubbling over with the enthusiasm kindled by the warm reception accorded them everywhere, came to Ogden, the second city of the state, in whom all citizens have a reasonable pride and to their great consternation and surprise were accorded a welcome befitting a gang of desperadoes bent on sacking the town, rather than the representatives of one of the greatest commercial bodies of men in the United States.

A FRIGID WELCOME.

Not a citizen of Ogden was at the depot excepting those employed there, to extend a welcoming hand or at least cheer the purpose upon which these excursionists had come and in the march to the Weber club behind the band furnished by themselves, not a word of welcome was given by the few who made bold to take even a look at the visitors as they passed up the street, and no more comment would have been made had the visitors walked into the Weber river instead of the Weber club, so-called. But with a determination to acquaint the citizens of Ogden with the mission of the all-Utah boosters' excursion, the visitors swallowed the insults offered, complacently and in good spirit, fulfilled their purposes there and departed, not caring if Ogden's nearest representative men were ever considered again.

"DOG IN MANGER" TACTICS.

Think of it, you citizens of Ogden who have something else in mind than the puerile display of "dog in the manger" tactics evinced by your so-called publicity men, you certainly feel a considerable pride in the State of Utah, a commonwealth that is attracting the notice of capital and the attention of the civilized world; and when you come fully to a knowledge of the fact that within the week there have been those whose love for Utah cannot be questioned, who came with the glad message that at last the people of this fair state were acknowledging the natural resources existing here were to be paraded to the world to the end that its fair acres should be peopled by an industrious army of citizens wrestling from its soil its agricultural products and deriving in its hills for the mineral wealth that here abounds. These men who took upon themselves the mission of paving the way to a greater Utah, who spent their time and money lavishly in their vast resources and who were received with open arms and loud acclaim and proclaimed the harbinger of greater prosperity wherever they went, they evinced in praising the energy and thrift of the various communities

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT

The Way Samose Works Its Wonders—Guaranteed By Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

Physicians and chemists for years have studied the problem of making a nourishing food, but it is only within the last few months that a bright man discovered the prescription that taken with the daily meals gives a positive increase in flesh. In fact it was so certain in its action that a guarantee was attached to each package stating that if weight did not increase as a result of using it, the purchase price would be refunded.

This preparation is now put up in convenient form for use under the name of Samose.

Taken with each meal, it enables the food you eat to assimilate with the system and that in connection with its own flesh-forming and tissue building foods gives healthy flesh.

Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept. secured the agency in Salt Lake City for Samose, and as the percentage of satisfactory results is so nearly one hundred per cent they feel there is no risk in offering to refund the money if Samose does not do all that is claimed for it. Sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents.

BOYCOTTS, AND BOASTS OF IT.

It is perhaps not generally known, but a fact nevertheless, that Ogden boasts of the boycott she has established against articles of commerce manufactured in this city and on the recent visit of the Commercial club members there it was made plain that Ogden merchants, though they realized the superiority of the various articles manufactured here, would not dare offer them for sale on pain of boycott and ridicule. In fact, one prominent man said it would be as much as his business was worth to have it known that he was selling articles with a Salt Lake stamp on them, and inasmuch as they were not to be had in Ogden he was compelled to send out of the state for them. Here we are trying to get the people to buy Utah manufactured articles for the benefit of the industry and interests of the people and the second city in the state, with nothing but selfish interests in view, would prefer to have the money of the merchants sent out of the state rather than to have the home industries originating in this city.

THE SHINING EXCEPTION.

In the general condemnation of Ogden business men, a halt should be called long enough to praise that grand old man Fred Kiesel. He is a prince among his fellows, and when he routed out of the card rooms of the Weber club those who should have accorded the visitors a welcome and showed them their duty, there was not a man in the Commercial club delegation who did not feel honored in shaking his hand and regretting that this city could not have the benefit of his enthusiasm and business sagacity.

It is small wonder that Ogden has not progressed as she should have done and the neighboring cities of the north have not a good word to say of her. This is not intended as meaning that there are not many clever, intelligent, broad minded business men there, but this element is dominated by self-conceited wisacres who, not from a spirit of rivalry but of animosity, place Ogden in a bad light and retard the progress she is entitled to. Salt Lake is the capital city of this great state, and as such deserves the distinction which other towns in this and other states accord to her; and the capital city plays no favorites, in fact the slogan of the business men here is to call upon the cities and towns of the state to take care of themselves and Salt Lake will do likewise. The growth of the state is naturally reflected in its chief city, but any city in the state that exceeds the spirit of rivalry, which is always admirable and runs to animosity, with selfish purposes in view only, will find itself in the unfortunate position of a "has been" and a halt should be called by all fair minded men to the general prosperity that is now coming to Utah may lodge in all of its cities, towns and villages, that the people might be benefited and a commonwealth be established here that will be one of the wonders of the world.

CANADIANS BANQUET.

Annual Affair on "Empire Day" a Distinct Social Success.

The annual banquet of the Canadian association was held Tuesday evening at the Knutsford hotel, where there was a fine spread, with a program of speeches and music. The Canadian Club, under the leadership of the evening, offering the toast to the president of the United States, Rev. D. B. Scott followed with a toast to the memory of the late Edward VII. Frank B. Scott gave the toast to the new king, George V. "The Land of Our Ancestors" was toasted by E. O. Lee. "The Land of Our Birth" was toasted by P. W. Gorman, and Charles Crane responded with "The Land of the Future." Among the musical selections were a tenor solo by J. H. Summers and two violin solos by Miss Calla Crane, accompanied by the Leonard Sisters. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. James Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crane, Miss Calla Crane, Miss Lenore Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Morningstar, Mr. and Mrs. George Morrow, Dr. and Mrs. F. Root, Dr. Cassidy, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Boyer, E. O. Lee, Vivian Strang, and Mrs. J. H. Scott. The program was a success, and the meeting closed by singing "America" and "Auld Lang Syne."

IMPURE MILK CASE.

Technicalities in the enforcement of the pure food ordinance of the city resulted again yesterday in the discharge of a defendant who had been found guilty in the police court and appealed his case into the district court. A. D. Reynolds was arrested on the charge of selling impure milk, the city relying upon the evidence of a deputy food commissioner having bought some of the milk from Reynolds. The court held that there had been no sale of milk, and that the officer had merely acquired the sample of watered milk by condemnation under the ordinance.

Stories of Success

JUDGE LOVETT

The man who does his work, any work conscientiously must always be in one sense a great man. There is but one royal road, and that is hard labor. These two will not pay that price for greatness can on only money for great success. Consider Judge Lovett, who started his railroad career thirty years ago, cutting ties for rail in Texas, and upon whose shoulders has fallen the management of the great Harriman railway system. Not many boys in that part of the country were poorer than he was, but he worked hard and made good every minute. His rise from tie-cutter to railway manager hinges back on the time he saved money enough to take a course in law. It pays to save. The big men of all times in their lives have proved it. None of us can fathom the future, but the man with a savings account is ready for it with ready money. It safeguards you against whatever may come, whenever it comes.
